ABOUT ME

A developing sound designer and composer seeking artistic opportunities that challenge and allow the continual expansion of creative practice. With a wide-ranging musical palette, Will creates original work that builds atmosphere, emotion, and a distinct sense of place. His practice is rooted in curiosity and experimentation, and he is passionate about finding the right sound to support and enhance a production. Will is highly collaborative and enjoys working closely with artists and creative teams to develop ideas and bring ambitious projects to life.
